La Roe to Be Speaker In Forming of National Presbyterian Church

By Caspar Nannes

Wilbur La Roe, Jr., moderator of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A., will deliver the principal address on October 19 at the formal establishment of Covenant - First Presbyterian Church as the National Presbyterian Church. High Government officials, diplomatic representatives, clergymen of the Presbyterian and other denominations and laymen will be among those present at the historic occasion. Among those participating in the ceremonies will be President Harold W. Dodds of Princeton University. He will place a wreath at the base of the John Witherspoon monument directly in front of the church. Witherspoon was the only clergyman signer of the Declaration of Independence. The wreath will be given on behalf of the Princeton University alumni.

Mr. La Roe.

Plaque to Be Unveiled.
Another feature of the event will be the unveiling of a historic plaque at the entrance of the church at Connecticut avenue and N. street N.W. The outdoor ceremonies will start at 4:30 p.m., with a service to follow in the church.
Final action making Covenant-First Presbyterian Church the National Presbyterian Church was taken last May at the annual meeting of the General Assembly of the denomination in Grand Rapids, Mich. The Rev. Dr. Edward L. R. Elson is pastor of the church and will be the first pastor of the National Presbyterian Church.
First Presbyterian Church traces its origin to a meeting of Scotch stonemasons in a workshop on what is now the White House lawn, in 1792. The group later met near the Capitol, its building frequently being called "The Little Church under the Hill."

Church Formed in 1883.
The Church of the Covenant was formed by residents of the Dupont Circle section in 1883. The church was built in 1889 at the present location. One of its communicants was Benjamin Harrison, who was inaugurated as President of the United States the same week.

The two congregations were united in 1930 under the name of Covenant-First Presbyterian Church. In the same year, the new congregation was designated by the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A., to become its National Presbyterian Church.

On the motion of H. H. Goodins, the group asked for the elimination of all unnecessary noises created by vehicles. Mr. Goodins said the District is entirely too lax in the enforcement of traffic regulations. The association agreed, however, that the insufficient number of policemen greatly add to the enforcement problem.

One member cited the city of Memphis, Tenn., as a place where the use of the horn is prohibited and speed laws are rigidly enforced.

The resolution was sent to the Federation of Citizens' Associations. The meeting was held in the All-Soul's Episcopal Church, Cathedral avenue and Woodley place N.W.

Citizen Association Urges 2 Meatless Days a Week

The "Help Feed Europe Plan" was given a lift last night by the Arkansas Avenue Citizens' Association which passed a resolution urging members to set aside two meatless days each week to save food and aid starving people of Europe.

Controversy over insertion of a liquor advertisement in "The Arkansas Traveler," the association's official paper, gave rise to a resolution, passed by the group, authorizing Miss Isabelle Thompson, editor, to accept any advertisement from a legitimate business at her own discretion.

Mr. Earl Fowler, pastor of the Sixth Presbyterian Church, addressed members on the importance of contributing to the Community Chest in the coming drive.

Mrs. Mary S. Reah, president, conducted the meeting in Burdick Vocational High School, Thirteenth and Allison streets N.W.

Boundary Line Tavern Is Half Wet, Half Dry

By the Associated Press
CHICAGO.—James Flocchi's tavern is half wet and half dry.

The front part of Mr. Flocchi's new tavern is suburban Highland which, by local option, permits sale of alcoholic beverages. But surveys disclosed that the rear half is in Highland Park, dry by local option.

Liquor is sold in the front part—in Highland—soft drinks and sandwiches are served in the rear—in Highland Park.
